Notes:

1. Students who transfer to Temple University with the A.A.S. in Media and Technology will need to complete the 45+ General Education requirements necessary to graduate from Temple University.
2. NT stands for Non-Transferable. Non-transferable courses will not transfer to Temple for credit.
3. Course satisfies a major requirement at Temple University.
4. MPRO 201: Media Production I and MPRO 290: Production Practicum together will satisfy Temple University's MSP 2701: Introduction to Media Production requirement.
5. MTEC 251: Web & Mobile Technologies II and MTEC 295: Technology Field Practicum together will satisfy Temple University's MSP 4741: Emergent Media Production requirement.
6. MPRO 251: Media Production II and MPRO 295: Media Field Practicum together will satisfy Temple University's MSP 3701: Genres of Media Production requirement.
7. Students should use Temple University's Transfer Equivalency Tool to select a transfer course that will satisfy the Human Behavior (GB) General Education requirement at Temple University. Students who transfer without a GB course will need to complete one at Temple University.
8. For information about how selected courses might transfer to Temple University, refer to Temple University's Transfer Equivalency Tool: <https://admissions.temple.edu/apply/transfer-students/transfer-equivalency-tool> Courses not included in the transfer tool may transfer, however, they would need to be evaluated.

If the suggested classes are successfully completed at Esperanza College and an Associate of Applied Science in Media and Technology degree is awarded, the remaining five semesters for the Bachelor of Arts in Media Studies and Production, Media Production Track are as follows:
